We are glad to notice that, under the new régime, more attention is being paid to the roads of the Colony. Under the administration of Sir John Pope Hennessy the roads were allowed to fall into a state of disrepair quite fereign to Hongkong-which had long been noted for the cleanliness and amouthness of its highways—owing to the disinclination of His Excellency to allow the money to be spent. During-the last consequence of the introduction of the jinricksha, but the Governor would not recognise the necessity for a liberal expenditure on the roads. In many thoroughfares great and pedestrians. In others which had been laid in concrete large depressions had been and uncomfortable to passengers. Perhaps that the centre of the road-originally, higher than the concrete borders-has been worn ton level below the concrete. It is well known that Mr. PRICE, while paying close left alone, would have taken steps to counteract the deterioration caused by these vehicles. At the meeting of the Legislative Council on i the 7th February last, Governor Hennessy said:-- "As to our roads, streets, and bridges, "I am on the whole perfectly satisfied with the state they are in. I have over and over again intimated to Mr. PRIOR and to Mr. Bowning that any assistance required for that department I am prepared to of our streets and roads, so far from being "unsatisfactory, is highly creditable to the "Survey Department." and coolly intimated that the hon member was welcome to entertain an opposite opinion if it pleased him. In such case argument would have been useless. The GOVERNOE, in his remarks above quoted, was 1,100 names, and gives reference to over 2,000 | clearly speaking on the defensive, probably in reply to some criticisms in the papers on the subject, and, as usual, he endeavoured to shift the responsibility on to the shoulders of others. To show the utter insincerity of His Excellency's remarks and the little-reliability to be placed upon his statements, it might be pointed out that if the Governor, as he must have done, had noticed the unsatisfactory condition of the thoroughfares-and it must be remembered that his attention had been pointedly drawn to the matter-it was his duty, not to stop short at merely offering his officers assistance, but to insist upon their giving so urgent a work their immediate attention. As a matter of fact, in this, as in many other things, Sir John Pope Hennessy said much more than he did. Words not is published in Two Forms-Complete at $5; or | deeds was His Excellency's motto, and the consequence is that the public, whose servant he was, have been made to suffer inconvenience in order that he might be able to promote his own selfish ends and revel in the glory of a big balance, his ideal proof of a successful administration.

General.—I have &c.. (Signed) . KIMBERLEY. Governor Sir J. Pope Hennessy.

Governor Sir J. POPE HENNESSY, K.C. M.G. Downing Street, 29th Sept., 1880 Sir -- I have the honour to noknowledge the receipt of your despatch of the 23rd June, on the subject of brothel slavery.

-2.—I have read this despatch with some feeling of disappointment, as it does not appear to me to meet the real difficulties of the subject. 3.-You state that "the existing law agains slavery, if properly suforced, is quite sufficient to secure the real freedom of these women; " and gain, "that any cases of the detention of women against their will in such houses would be dealt with by the police in the same way as a case of robbery or assault in such houses." But it need scarcely be pointed out that the detention of a prostitute in a brothel against her will is an exceptional occurrence, for which the legislation introduced by Sir A. Kennedy in 1873 and 1875 effectively provides whenever evidence is 4.—The question how to deal with what termed brothel slavery raises much wider issues the practices known under that name arise out of certain pecuniary transactions habitually spoken of as purchase and sale,—transactions well understood, but very difficult to prevent; the result of which is that young women are compelled to live a life of degradation and practical slavery although not under actual personal restrain Something more is therefore needed than police interference confined to cases of forcible deten tion; and the difficulty which has to be met that of providing some means for preventing this abominable traffic in women who are bough elsewhere in order to be made prostitutes in Hongkong, or are virtually purchased in the Colony for that purpose, and for giving protection in the Colony to women themselves. It is generally admitted that the persona liberty of these women is not directly interfered with to any very serious extent; and when your despatch of the 23rd January last, dealing with the question of slavery, was received, stating that you had given orders, "that the law, whatever may be the consequence to that brothel system, should be strictly enforced so as to secure the freedom of these women," it was hoped that you had discovered some method of checking this traffic in women, and of dealing with the whole subject of brothel slavery in a practical manner and you were asked by means of what existing law you were enabled to attain this most desir-

5.—Pam afraid, from the tenour of your reply now under acknowledgment, that I must dome to the conclusion that you have not yet fully appreciated the peculiar difficulties surrounding this question, and that you have not formed any distinct plan for grappling with this long-standng evil. The numerous Despatches which have been received from you on this subject have reached no further than to point out the abuses connected with the old system of inspection, and especially with the employment of informers. I give you full credit for having lost no time in putting an end to the revolting practices which had arisen from the employment of these informers: but this measure was taken by you as long ago as the end of 1877; and that particular portion of the subject, having been finally disposed of, need not be further referred to in your lespatches. In dealing with the general question, you do not appear to me to recognize sufficiently that the establishment of the system of licenses and of inspection was police measure intended to give to the Hongkong Government some hold upon the brothels, in the hone of improving the condition of the inmates, and of

they are at present subjected. 6. -Mr. Labouchers, in his despatch of the 27th August, 1856, says, "the Colonial Government has not, I think, attached sufficient weight to the very grave fact that in a British Colony large numbers of women should be held in precical slavery for purposes of prostitution, and allowed in some cases to perish miserably of disease in the prosecution of this employment, and for the gain of those to whom they suppose themselves to belong. A class of persons who by no choice of their own are subjected to such and by Dr. Eitel in his report of the 25th of treatment have an urgent claim on the active protection of Government. I am not at present repared to say, and I wish you seriously consider, in what shape and to what extent it practicable to give this protection. But I do not see how it can be given at all till the catadishments in which such practices are suppassed exist are brought under the eye, and in some measure under the control of Government. On these grounds, therefore, independently of those which have been pressed upon you by Sir J. Stirling and others, I think that these &c., &c. houses of ill-fame and their inmates should be egistered, and subjected to police regulations. n the first instance, of a sanitary character; that a strict medical inspection should be enforced and that all diseased persons should be removed to hospitals and placed under treatment. The expense of their treatment should be paid either y the public, or, if possible, by the persons from whose control they are taken; against whom, I will here observe, rather than their unfortunate nstruments, the penal provisions of the law should be mainly directed. A law framed bese principles, besides the direct effect it would have on the public health, would furnish some immediate protection to those who are the first victims of the present system, and would facilitate such further measures as the Government might deem it expedient to take hereafter." The same views were again expressed in his later despatch of the 11th August, 1857, and were the grounds upon which the large powers contained in section of the Ordinance 12 of 1857 were given to the police as distinct from the Colonial Surgeon. These humane intentions of Mr. Labouchere have been frustrated by various causes, among which must be included that the police have pears from recent correspondence to have been to destroy the machinery which was intended to had a proper well for storing kerosine, but he did ameliorate the condition of the women; but before shandoning the present system it is necessary to consider carefully what can be put in its place, are given, and then follows another despatch by since otherwise the evils pointed out by Mr. Labouchere will be left without a remedy. As you have yourself recommended this step, it was ressonable to expect that, with the advantages which you possess of local observation and experience, you would be prepared, if not to submit a detailed plan for the future protection of these unfortunate women, fine, at all events to offer valuable auggestions for the formation of such a plan. Notwithstanding the attention which you have very properly bestowed on the subject. I cannot may that I have

Government House, Hongkong. 15th June 1881.

My Lord, -With reference to my view of certain legal questions relating to the so-called slavery in Hongkong on which as your Lordship points out, I differed with the late Attorney. leneral, Mr. Phillippo, I have had some opportunities of considering the n in consultation with Mr. O'Malley, the present Attorney. General, and the result is that, whilst I am clearly of opinion that there is nothing illegal in the ordinary mode of adoption of Chinese children in this Colony, I still think that, in the hecking the edious species of slavery to which particular case of Teang San Fat's child. I was not wrong in instructing Mr. Phillippo to prosecute Lenng A Tait, as in that case there appeared to be some evidence that the child was l about to be taken out of the Colony, against the ! wish of the parents, to be sold in Canton. This seemed to me to involve an offence at common

SPIRITS IN SIAM.

FEROM OUR CORRESPONDENT. BANGKOK, 12th May, 1882. The vexed question of liquor selling in Siam as once more cropped up, and is exciting coniderable interest. This has arisen from an offort which is being made by the Siamese Government to get the control of the retail traffic on the part of Siam was not only a reasonable. in spirituous fluids once more into their own hands. And tricks that are vain, The heathen Sinmes is peculiar. They could not prevent liquor coming into the country in fereign bottoms, nor could they preventits sale while in the hands of the foreign importers. But wee unto the native, Chinese or Biamese, who ventured to buy a jar of it, or in whose possession one was found. Loaded with chains, dragged to prison, his property confisoated and his family turned out to starve, there was little inducement for any native to embark in so hazardous an undertaking. Mistakes too were made by the Siamese officials in carrying out the law. Chinese from Java, Macao, and Saigon, had their stocks of liquor seized and confiscated, and when complaint was made by their Consuls regret was expressed at the error. apologies were offered, but all demands for compensation evaded or disregarded. Finding no purchasers, the samehu accumulated in the godowns until the complaints from the unfortunate holders became not only load out actually olamorous. General Halderman, on the part of the United States, had broken up and destroyed the system inaugurated by Mr. Partridge; nothing more can reasonably be asked of him. Mr. Hamel, the representative of Holland, a very liberal though a very just man, while moderating the exactions and toning down the errors of his predecessors. insists on the Slamese carrying out the clauses of the old treaty, and making reparation for the wrongful seizures of the property of his nationals, before any new measures can He be taken in consideration. Representations you have been made to Mr. Palgrave that the trade of British ships will be injured if the Poor Elancheton is dead, and his successor, a very worthy man, doubtless, has but just arrived and knows nothing personally of the matter, and is liable to be subjected to wrong influences. The United States baving already adopted the most stringent measures possible can do no more. Mr. Prostes, the Portuguese Consul, is away, and his locum tenens, a young lad from Hongkong, is nowerless to act. The German Consulate is also widowed, Baron Bassewitz being in Germany at present. The merchant Consuls are torn by conflicting interests some of them being agents for steamers and others having large transactions with the Siamese officials. The time would scarcely seem to be propitious for the "friendly move" upon the part of Siam. A circular from the British Consulate, invit-

The policy of the United States having been so clearly defined and so heartily approved by the Home Government, it was useless for her representative to attend, nothing that could be said could alter his views or action, and he had, I presume, ac. desire to make proselytes. The meeting was anything but unanimous. The deliberations were conducted in the French language, Mr. Harmand, the French Consul, speaking no English. The majority were Great Britain. France, Germany, Holland and Portugal; the minority Sweden, Italy, Austro-Hungary and Denmark. The minority urged that this demand but a strictly legal one. A gentleman, accompanied by a favourite dog, visited the studio of a rising artist. There was a picture on the essel, and the dog began to bark furiously at it. "Nature may be relied upon, after all," said the gentleman. "The best evidence of the faithfulness with which you have painted that dog in the background is the earnestness with which my dog backs at him."

-"But that isn't a dog," said the artist, flush.

ing; "it's a cow."--The gentleman was non-plused for a moment, but quickly replied " Well did like vow."

I'm young,

the dog's eyes are better than mine: he never down the names and ages of her scholars at the commencement of the term, when, coming in turn to a little white-headed boy, she asked him:

"Well, my lad, how old are you?"—"My name ain't Lad, said he sharply; "its John."—"Well," said the schoolmistress, "what is the rest of your name?"-"Why, that's all the name I've got-

LOCAL AND INDIAN PARCEL POST. 1.—Small Parcelemay he sent by Post at Pook Rates between Hongkong and any of the British Post Offices in China, as well as to Japan, Macao, Pakhoi, the Straits Settlements, and India, They must not exceed the following dimensions, 2 feet long, 1 foot broad, 1 foot deep, weigh more than 5lbs., nor be smaller than 3 in. by 2 in. by 2 in. Such parcels may be wholly closed if they bear this special endorsement. Parcel, containing no letter, but any parcel may be opened by direction of the Postmanter General. In the Case of Parcels for India a declaration of contents and value is required, a printed form for which is supplied gratis. The Registration of Parcels for India is compulsory.

TEA MUSTERS Persons who send Musters of Tea through the Post in Tius are requested to have them made flat or square instead of round, as it is impossible to pack round tins securely in the mail bags. It is believed that the ten will travel more safely in flat time, which are not so liable as round ones to be buiged in. SIEMSBEN & Co. 4 by/8 by 14 inches is suggested as a good sing. The time should not have sharp corners.
